CALCU

Cabernet Sauvignon

In the local Mapuche language, Calcu means “healing doctor” or “magician.” And indeed, winemakers Alejandro Jofre and Ricardo Rivadeniera have created a magical “Super Chilean” blend that expresses the diversity of the Colchagua Valley.

Like the bull on label, Calcu is exuberant and unrestrained. Rather than being tied to a particular terroir, Calcu is made with grapes harvested from throughout the Colchagua Valley, revealing different aspects of the valley’s dynamic character with every vintage.

2009 CALCU Cabernet Sauvignon

This rich and velvety wine is a blend of Cabernet Sauvignon, Carménère and Petit Verdot. The Cabernet Sauvignon grapes come from a block located at the foothills of the Andes at an altitude of 500 meters—one of the highest in altitude and closest to the Andes in the Colchagua Valley. The soil is alluvial, deep and well drained because of stones and gravel. Both the Carménère and Petit Verdot come from the Maquis estate in the central part of Colchagua Valley.

Varietal: 80% Cabernet, 10% Carmenère, 10% Petit Verdot

pH: 3.78 T/A: 3.75g/l

Aging: 20% aged 9 months in French oak barrels; remainder aged in stainless steel
