praises Apaltagua Grial Carmenerre 2007

90+ points

Respected wine writer Stephen Tanzer describes the Grial as “rather suave on entry, then firmer in the middle, with a subtly perfumed quality to the black raspberry and bitter cherry flavors. Finishes smoky and long, with sweet tannins. Impressively deep and harmonious.”

Report # 21: The Chilean Wine Revolution

The Apaltagua Carmenerre Grial 2007 is “a complex and savory wine with rich plum and heavily toasted oak aromas followed by velvety plum fruit flavors, lots of spice, and notes of smoke, tobacco and chocolate. The tannins are soft and round and the finish is long lasting.”

90 points.
