

Sustainable, Organic and Wild Yeasts -- Wines from Global Vineyard Importers

Origin	Wine	Sustainable Certified	Sustainable Uncertified	Organic Certified IMO	Organic Uncertified	Biodynamic	Uses Wild Yeasts?
CHILE	Apaltagua Reserva line (all)	yes					no
CHILE	Apaltagua Envero Carmenere	yes					no
CHILE	Apaltagua Coleccion Pinot Noir	yes					no
CHILE	Apaltagua Grial Carmenere	yes					no
CHILE	Apaltagua Signature CS	yes					no
CHILE	Apaltagua sparkling wines	yes					no
CHILE	Gran Verano wines (all)	yes					no
CHILE	Maquis wines (all)	yes					no
CHILE	Calcu wines (all)	yes					no
CHILE	Escarlata (all)	yes					no
ARGENTINA	Aniello wines (all)		yes				yes
URUGUAY	Marichal wines (all)		yes				both wild and cultured
CHILE	Penalolen Cabernet Sauvignon				yes		both wild and cultured
CHILE	Domus Aurea Cabernet Sauvignon				yes		both wild and cultured
CHILE	Meli wines (all)				yes		wild yeast for the reds
CHILE	Gillmore wines				yes (in most years)		yes
CHILE	Albamar wines						no
ARGENTINA	Ricardo Santos wines				yes (in most years)		both wild and cultured
ARGENTINA	Tercos wines		yes				both wild and cultured
ARGENTINA	Funckenhausen wines		yes				no

Certifications:

Control IMO: IMO is specialized since many years in the certification of smallholder farmers groups and presently certifies more than 300 smallholder farmers groups world-wide. The certified groups vary in size from 20 to 25'000 farmers and produce a great variety of crops (coffee, spices, cocoa, fresh or dried fruits, rice, cotton, nuts, etc.)

https://www.imo.ch/logicio/pmws/indexDOM.php?client_id=imo&page_id=smallholder&lang_iso639=en

Sustainability Certification in Chile: Participating wineries maintain an overall management of sustainable production by minimizing potential environmental hazards, promoting good labor relations, facilitating communications with all groups involved in the wine production processes with a mission to continuously improve upon solutions and strategies that promote sustainable farming practices

<http://www.sustentavid.org/en/home/>