MARCHIGÜE VINEYARD IN THE COLCHAGUA VALLEY

Small Production | Estate Fruit | Excellent Value

Calcu seeks to rediscover the Colchagua Valley from an exceptional vineyard source, Marchigüe, with elegant and fruit-forward single-vineyard wines. The Marchigüe vineyards are planted along rolling coastal hills, southwest of Santiago and only 15 miles from the Pacific coast. The ocean breezes help keep temperatures moderate during the growing season and the soils are granitic with clay content, conditions that are important to develop character and structure. The winemaking team is led by Ricardo Rivadeneira Hurtado and Rodrigo Romero, whose experience and passion for quality allows them to develop unique wines that reflect the best of the Colchagua Valley.
